This is Henley-in-Arden School's Publication Scheme on information available under the Freedom of Information Act 2000

Schools are required to comply with the Freedom of Information Act through two key publications:

1. A model publication scheme
2. A guide to the information the school holds.

Guidance on both is set out by the Information Commissioners Office (ICO).

The model publication scheme lists seven classes of information that should be made available to the public, as follows:

1. Who we are and what we do
2. What we spend and how we spend it
3. What our priorities are and how we are doing
4. How we make our decisions
5. Our policies and procedures
6. Lists and registers
7. The services we offer

The guide to information expands on the seven classes of information and lists what is available to the public.

The governing body is responsible for maintenance of this scheme.

Introduction: what a publication scheme is and why it has been developed

One of the aims of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (which is referred to as FOIA in the rest of this document) is the public authorities, including all maintained schools, should be clear and proactive about the information they will make public.

To do this we must produce a publication scheme, setting out:

- The classes of information which we publish or intend to publish;
- The manner in which the information will be published; and
- Whether the information is available free of charge or on payment

The scheme covers information already published and information which is to be published in the future. All information in our publication scheme is available for you on our website to download and print off or is available in paper form.

Some information which we hold may not be made public, for example personal information.

This publication scheme conforms to the model scheme for schools approved by the Information Commissioner.

Aims and Objectives

The school aims to:

- Enable every child to fulfil their learning potential, with education that meets the needs of each child,
- Help every child develop the skills, knowledge and personal qualities needed for life and work,

This publication scheme is a means of showing how we are pursuing these aims.

Categories of information published

The publication scheme guides you to information which we currently publish (or have recently published) or which we will publish in the future. This is split into categories of information known as 'classes'. These are contained in section 6 of this scheme.

The classes of information that we undertake to make available are organised into four broad topic areas:

School Prospectus – information published in the school prospectus.

Governors' Documents – information published in governing body documents.

Pupils & Curriculum – information about policies that relate to pupils and the school curriculum.

School Policies and other information related to the school – information about policies that relate to the school in general.

How to request information

If you require a paper version of any of the documents within the scheme, please contact the school by telephone, email, fax or letter. Contact details are set out below. or you can visit our website at [www.henleyschool.com]

To help us process your request quickly, please clearly mark any correspondence "PUBLICATION SCHEME REQUEST" (in CAPITALS please)

If the information you're looking for isn't available via the scheme [and isn't on our website], you can still contact the school to ask if we have it.

Paying for information

Information published on our website is free, although you may incur costs from your internet service provider. If you don't have Internet access, you can access our website using a local library or an Internet café.

Single copies of information covered by this publication are provided free unless stated otherwise in section 6. If your request means that we have to do a lot of photocopying or printing, or pay a large postage charge, or is for a priced item such as some printed publications or videos we will let you know the cost before fulfilling your request. Where there is a charge this will be indicated by a £ sign in the description box.

Suggested actions to be taken when a request for information is received:

1. Decide whether the request is a Fol request
2. Decide whether the school holds the information, or whether the request should be transferred to another body should the information be held elsewhere
3. Provide the information if it has already been made publication
4. Inform the enquirer if the information is not held
5. Consider whether a third party's interests might be affected by disclosure and if so consult the third party
6. Consider whether any exemptions apply and whether they are absolute or qualified
7. Carry out a public interest test to decide if applying the qualified exemption outweighs the public interest in disclosing the information
8. Decide whether the estimated cost of complying with the request will exceed the appropriate limit
9. If a request is made for a document that contains exempt personal information, ensure that the personal information is removed
10. Consider whether the request is vexatious or repeated

Fees

It is expected that schools will make all items available to the public free of charge or in line with their charging policy. The Fol Act does not include any requirements for making documents available in another language. However, accessibility to the information must conform with existing legal requirements, such as the Disability Discrimination Act.

Where the school is making a priced item available (such as a printed publication, video or bound information), a charge may be levied. If the request requires a lot of photocopying or large postage costs, the school needs to make clear to all those enquiring that a handling charge might be made in line with its policy on charging.

Exemptions and exceptions to Fol requests

The ICO has advised that:

1. All valid requests must be: in writing; states the name of the applicant and an address for correspondence, and describes the information requested.
2. The information should be readily available to the school i.e. a school is not required to create information in order to be able to respond to the request
3. Exemptions for schools under Part 2 of the Act relates to material which reveals personal information. A school which declines to provide information must send a refusal notice to the applicant outlining the exemption it is seeking to apply, including details of the school's complaint procedure and information on how to contact the ICO.
4. Whilst personal information is exempt under the Fol Act, individuals may continue to make a "subject access request" under the data Protection Act. If a request is made for a document which contains personal information e.g. minutes of the governors meeting, then they may be issued with the personal information blanked out.
